For all those who mourn in Zi-on, Those who con-tin-ue in love; Shall re-For all those who mourn in Zi-on, Those who will wait on the Lord; Shall re-For all those who mourn in Zi-on, Those who will dure to the end; Shall receive laugh-ter for cry-ing as com-fort comes from a-bove. The ceive beau-ty for ash-es, a great, e-ter-nal re-ward. The ceive man-sions for ru-ins. All things that our Fa-ther sends. The wa-ter of life for their thirst-ing; They need not be parched an-y more. The oil of new joy for their mourn-ing That lamps might a-gain burn so bright. The com-fort of home for their long-ing, A shel-ter both safe and se-ure. The bread of new life for their hun - ger; That will ev - 'ry spir - it re - store. gar - ment of praise now up - on them In - stead of a dark, hea - vy night. That smiles of their friends for the lone - ly, A love that is sweet, true and pure.

they may grow in righ - teous - ness, Like trees that God has plant - ed. Giv - ing glo - ry to the Gar - d'ner, Who ev - 'ry gift has grant - ed.
