

Why Weepest Thou?

words and music by Jeanne Coen

J=80
espress.

Why weep-est
Whom seek-est

J=80
Arpegg
8va Arpegg
8va

6

thou? Why weep-est thou? Ma-ry heard the gen-tle words As her thou? Whom seek-est thou? We laid his bo-dy in the tomb- thr-ee

10

1. tears fell like dew. Weep-ing in the ear-ly morn, be-fore the sun a rose da-ys a-go. Dressed in li-nens pure & white and - - - roll'd the stone in place Now the ma - ster's gone He is not here.

(2)

13

f

16

cresc.
Where have they tak-en him? She ask'd the Gard-'ner there. He whom I love-est is not cresc.

ff

19

here. "O

pp

Arpegg

8va

Arpegg

Arpegg

24

touch me not fair Ma - ry. To my Fa - ther I must go".

26

"Weep no more dear Ma - ry" she heard His voice once more Her

28

tear filled eyes now re-cog-nized the man who gen-tly spoke He is not here.

31

For He is ris - en like the morn-ing sun My Sav-ior lives! My Sav-ior Lives

35

I know He lives My Sav-ior Lives I know He lives!

39

Ra - bon-ni, Mas - ter, My Lord!