

Perfect, But Not Yet

Lisa Hains Barker

Keri Hains Kammerman

$\text{♩} = 84$

I try to be like Je - sus, I try to do my best, But good things can I learn from the days that don't go right? I day, to Heav - ly Fath - er, I'll fin - al - ly re - turn. We'll some - times I am grum - py and leave my toys a mess! I learn when I am cheer - ful, my fam' - ly feels my light, That talk a - bout my life here, and all the things I've learned. And ar - gue with my sib - lings and for - get to feed my pet, And when we work to - geth - er we will all have time to play, And some - time in e - ter - ni - ty, through Je - sus' love so sweet, Like

3

5

7

Chorus:

some - day I'll be per - fect, but not yet. Heav'nly Fa - ther loves me when I'm lov - ing words make friends a - long my way. Him, I will be fin - ished and com - plete.

10

weak and when I'm wrong, And as I turn my heart to him, - He'll make weak things strong!

13

He knows I'm not finished yet, there's so much more to know, That's why he gave me life on earth, to make mistakes and grow. 2. What 3. One make mistakes and grow. My Father loves me perfectly, This I won't forget! And some day I'll be perfect, but not yet.

15

17

20