The Sav-ior stands knock-ing. O, come ye wea-ry soul,

13

13

Come, those with ques-tions, And those with scar-let wool. When paths fill with dark-ness and doubt-ing clouds my sight Faith-ful prayers trans - form my view.

18

23

I feel hea-ven's light. Help my eyes to see, My 28

ears to hear, My heart to o - pen wide.

33

That I might feel the peace that comes When 38

I let Him in - side.

43

The Sav - ior stands

48

knock-ing. I come to Him in steps. Each one will car - ry E -

53

ter-nal con-se - quence. Though ef - forts feel awk-ward and weak-ness slows my

58

stride, When my gaze is lift-ed up Pro-mis-es ig-nite.

63

Help my eyes to see, My ears to hear, My 68

heart to o-pen wide. That I might 73

feel the peace that comes When I let Him in-side.

79

84

By op'n - ing to Je - sus My bur - dens will be light,

89

Deep wounds have heal - ing And crim - son sins turn white.

93

With on - go - ing ac - tion, De - lay - ing change no more, Cheer - ful cour - age

98

I will take; Bless-ings are as - sured. Help my eyes to 103

see, My ears to hear, My heart to o - pen

108

wide. That I might feel the peace that comes When I

114

let the Sav - ior in - side.
