The imaginary conversation in my head with you about this piece goes something like this:

You: Hey, wait. What? This isn't a choir piece.

Me: I know, but you're going to love it. It's so awesome!

You: Okay, but what do I DO with it?

Me: Well, you get a really good pianist and an average pianist. All my duets are paired this way. (Shameless plug for published duets inserted here.) The choir, congregation and organ ALL use the hymnbook (#200) and the piano players play the duet all at the same time. Be sure to have a practice where you do a sound check to make sure you have a good balance between the organ and piano, especially on verse 3. And for goodness sake, put up the lid on the piano!!!

You: I can't wait. This is going to be soooooo cool!

Me: Yup.
